began its Investigation and is Now About Half Through-Political Meeting Held Yesterday--- In Mayor's Court-Personal News.

In the United States Circuit Court the case of Bradley et als. aganist Seddon motion for a receiver for the Southside Land Improvement Company has been dismissed, Judge Waddill de claring that the court had no jurisdic tion in the matter.

Considerable interest has been manifested in this case and the latest developments will attract general attention. It will be recalled that the proceedings were first brought in the Corporation Court of Manchester and wefe then withdrawn and taken to the United States Court. Since this latter tribunal has declared that it has no jurisdiction the case has been taken to the Corporation Court again. The matter was brought up there yesterday. Judge Ingram issued a decree setting the hearing of the motion for a receiver for the 3d of September.

THE GRAND JURY.

The grand jury got to work yesterday on its investigation of the Taylor shooting and the other alleged unlawful acts and conditions growing out of the street car strike. At nightfall the work was perhaps half done. It will take at least another day, and possibly more, for its completion.

The grand jury is following substantially along the line of inquiry adopted by the coroner's jury. All the witnesses which appeared before that body have been summoned. Among those which were examined yesterday in reference to the Taylor shooting and other matters are the following:

E. H. Wells, T. A. Park, James Adams, A. L. Adamson, John J. Boyle, R. P. Smith, R. T. Chaney, Charles Euker, Horace Clements, Emmett Andrews, Floyd B. Bass, A. A. Alvis, O. W. Pond, Harvey Dowdy, H. B. Owen, John O'Brien, C. A. Raines, J. N. Owen, W. A. Moore, Archer Williamson, J. B. Gratz, E. L. Bolton, S. Kahn, R. B. Taylor, K. L. Patram, B. W. Montil, H. M. Owen, William Hobeck, William T. Gilliam, A. D. Shotwell, Russell Crosby, James T. Morris, Henry Walton, Tom Bass, M. J. Moore, G. H. Burrows.

There seems to be no reason for a change in the belief that the jury will fall to bring in any indictments in the Taylor matter. Several persons who have been heard to express themselves are of the opinion that there is no ground for action in this direction. Judge Ingram's charge to the jury has settled any controversy with reference to the law in the matter. There are about thirty soldiers who have yet to appear before the grand jury.

The attention of Judge Grinnan, of the Chancery Court, was almost exclusively vesterday with the consideration of matters relating to the Trigg Shipbuilding Company, which for some burn T. Myers as receiver.

The first motion was for the appoint ment of a co-receiver, and was overruled was sustained, was for an order directing property respectively of the Standard Cil

Company and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

There was a great array of counsel representing the various interests, and upon the first motion the creditors were divided, so it was overruled by the court. ORDER OF SALE.

The order, which was entered on motion of the two companies named, directs that two tugs belonging to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and one tanker being constructed for the Standard Oil Company, all of which are only about haif completed, be advertised for thirty days and then offered for sale at public auction. The order further directs that the material shall be first offered separately and then as a whole, to ascertain in what manner it may be disposed of to the best advantage.

It is understood that the advertisement leading up to the sale will be inserted in some daily newspaper in the next few days.

certain creditors of the concern, and was argued at some length by Messrs. Bickford and Hunton. Mr. J. Jordan Leake and others representing other creditors opposed the motion, and it was finally overruled by the court. Mr. Leake's contention was that Mr. Myers was looking faithfully after the affairs of the soncern and willing to import any information de-sired by the creditors.

KEEP DOWN EXPENSES.

He had no especial objection to the appointment of a co-receiver, but he desired to see the expenses of the litigation kept down as low as possible.

The second motion was that of the Standard Oil Company and the Pennsyl-

The work of the conference has been greatly dispatched by the excellent arrangements, making it possible to hold long sessions, with but little loss of time during the recesses.

The work to-day was taken up in receiving the different reports and in their discussion. Contrary to expectation and announcement, Dr. Lipscomb failed to preach before the conference this morning, but instead delivered his promised sermon to a large congregation in the Methodist Church to-night.

Perhaps the report that elicited the greatest amount of discussion was that of intemperance. In this much enthusiasm was shown, and a thorough accordance with the report was shown by all speakers.

The report carries with it a series of recolutions, among which is one that no man who favors the sale of liquor should be supported for the nomination for the Legislature, and only those in full accord with the Mann bill should receive the support of the temperance people. A collection was then taken up for the Anti-Salion League, and the sum of $140 was easily raised.

A resolution was also passed thanking

A resolution was also passed calling upon the annual conference to redistrict the conference, so as to have at least eleven districts. This brings up the old matter that has been a thorn in the flesh of many in this section for the past several years, the doing away by the bishop a few years ago of the Farmville District. COLLECTIONS GOOD

The gathering to-day was much larger than that of yesterday, and amounted to many hundred.

The sessions of the conference have been very interesting, indeed, and the people of Blackstone hate to see it close, so thoroughly are they delighted with entertaining the visitors.

The report of the Finance Committee showed a very great improvement in all collections, especially in the country districts.

showed a very great improvement in air collections, especially in the country districts.

Rev. John K. Walker was transferred, upon his application, from the Holston Conference to this conference.

The last business of the conference before adjourning this evening was the election of lay delegates to the annual conference. This resulted in the following gentlemen being selected:

Mr. J. C. Davis, of Wakefield: Mr. George P. Adams, of Blackstone: Mr. R. E. Gill. of Petersburg, and R. B. Hartily, of Sussex.

There has been some suggestion that in view of the fact that many people would come here to-morrow expecting that the conference had not adjourned, but would hold again to-morrow, that some minister would attend and preach for them.

Among those not members of this conference who has been in attendance is Rev. H. M. Hope, associate editor of the Richmond Christian Advocate.

Tokio correspondent sends rather an larming view of the situation in the East alarming view of the situation in the East to his paper. He says that Russia's retention of Manchuria, the increase of her fleet, the dispatch of reinforcements to Manchuria, the southward movement of the occupying army in Manchuria and the deflant conduct on the Korean frontier alarmed the Japanese, many of whom are convinced that it would be better to fight now than risk the eventual loss of Corea and the relegation of Japan to a secondary place. He says the Japanese are accumulating stores and negotiating the purchase of ships; that a squadron is off Vladivostock, to which port Russian vessels have been sent as a precaution, and that both fleets are ready for action at any moment.

IS WELL-WORTH SEEING

The Visit Will Well Pay for Itself, for Not a Better Equipped Institution is to Be Found in the South.

The Memorial Hospital, one of the largest and most complete institutions of its kind in the South, will be open for the reception of patients Monday

But before that time the public of Richmond and the community will have opportunity of going through the hospital and inspecting it. Not only is the opportunity given, but the officers of the institution cordially invite the people to come to the hospitat and see it. Tonorrow and Sunday have been set apart for that purpose, and the building will be thrown open both days to all who come. Miss Brennan, the superintendent and head nurse, assisted by a number of nurses and physicians who will practice there, will be on hand to guide the visitors and explain to them the many visitors and explain to them the many modern improvements and conveniences for the comfort and treatment of the alling. Many are likely to see the building to-morrow, while Sunday will bring a throng. Every courtesy will be shown the visitors and all will be welcome.

Well Worth Seeing.

Well Worth Seeing.

The new hospital, which is a credit to the city and State, is well worth seeing. It has every modern equipment of a great hospital, and the building, an unusually handsome and spacious one, becomes a member of the spiendid group which has made that part of Broad Street notable. Its associates are the City Hall, the Mechanics' Institute, the Capitol, Governor's mansion, State Library, Ford's Hotel, First Baptist Church, Smithdeal's Business College, and soon are to be added the Hotel Richmond, now in course of erection, and the proposed nine or tenstory office.

minion Hospital, between thirty and forty, will be transferred to the new building. This act will mark the passing of the Old Dominion and the beginning of the career of the Memorial. Miss Brennan, who comes from Bellevue, New York, will be superintendent of the Memorial. She is highly recommended and her administration will doubtless be eminently successful.
